

A Central Location, When Logistics Matter

Middletown, Ohio—situated on the banks of the Great Miami River in Southwest Ohio—is centrally located to customers and suppliers, offering convenient access to the region and the world.

Strategically Located between Cincinnati and Dayton, Middletown is Positioned for Growth

Transportation

Middletown has readily available transportation, including interstates, air and rail—making for easy and efficient businesses connections.

Middletown benefits from a central location and world-class industry access to customers and suppliers via:

- Direct access to I-75 at the newly redeveloped SR 122 Interchange.
- Access to five state routes.
- One-day trucking drive time to 20 major metro markets.
- Two major intersecting rail lines (Norfolk Southern and CSX).
- The Ohio and Great Miami Rivers for shipping.
- City-owned and operated transit system.
- Cars per day per ODOT (2010)
 - ▶ I-75 (both directions)—88,710
 - ▶ SR 122—23,500

Within 600 miles/1000 km are:

- 53% of the nation's population
- 41% of the nation's purchasing power
- 44% of the nation's manufacturing
- 60% of the nation's value-added by manufacturing

Middletown is an ideal location to expand your growth and market position.